

Note to Users of The Congregation at Prayer 2025—2026 Master Schedule

The Congregation at Prayer is a devotional guide for use in congregations with or without schools. It is provided for all members of the congregation to be used in individual meditation and family devotions at home, homeschool catechesis, daily chapel services of the congregation, for devotions at the beginning of Bible studies of the congregation, or to open the business meetings of boards, church councils, or voters' assemblies. The Congregation at Prayer is prepared by the pastor each week from this "master schedule" and is the principal tool in establishing a culture of catechesis and prayer in a Lutheran parish.

How to use the Congregation at Prayer: The weekly guide provides a substantial diet of Scripture, psalms, catechism, weekly hymns, and prayers. But it is not expected that everyone will use all the material in the weekly guide every day each week. The size and ages of families, the setting for a congregational devotion, and other objectives will help to determine how much of the material is used. For example, a family with very young children may decide to recite the verse of the week, pray the catechism, listen to the Bible Story, and sing the hymn. A family with older children may expand home devotions by reading both readings and by praying the psalm of the week and/or the psalms listed in the daily schedule. A couple or individual may decide to make use of all the material. Be flexible. It is better to do less but to form a regular habit of devotions than to be intimidated by attempting to do more than your family can manage and then abandoning the regular habit of family prayer because of it. The pastor is encouraged to make use of the Congregation at Prayer as the featured component of his daily devotions. In this way, he is praying with his people even if he is not present with them. The pastor should also regularly catechize the congregation in the importance of daily prayer and how to use the Congregation at Prayer.

Sources of the Schedule: The schedule that you have downloaded includes the arrangement of material from the Bible-story lectionary, catechism schedule, Bible verses, and hymns from Lutheran Catechesis: Catechist Edition, and from the Sunday and Festival lectionaries of Lutheran Service Book. The schedule employs the One-Year Historic Lectionary for the fall and Series A of the Three-Year Lectionary beginning in Advent. With minor modifications, congregations may use either Sunday morning lectionary.

Structure of the Congregation at Prayer: The "Daily Prayer Section" of Luther's Small Catechism (Invocation, Creed, Lord's Prayer, Morning or Evening Prayer, and Hymn) provides the basic devotional outline for the Congregation at Prayer, but the material listed in the Congregation at Prayer (psalms, readings, and hymn) can easily be used with any of the prayer offices in Lutheran Service Book. Again, be flexible. The Congregation at Prayer is a guide for a variety of uses and settings.

The Small Catechism is prayed annually and sequentially over the course of an academic/catechetical year beginning with Week 1 of the schedule. During the summers, selections from the catechism are chosen to highlight themes from the Sunday readings.

The Verse of the Week during the academic/catechetical year is chosen to highlight the Catechism for the week and/or the themes from Sunday. During the summer the verse highlights Sunday's theme.

The Psalm of the Week is generally the one appointed in the Sunday lectionary for that week. For those who desire to expand their praying of the psalter, Congregation at Prayer provides a 60-day psalm schedule or the psalms appointed in LSB for daily prayer during Advent/Christmas/Lent/Easter.

The Hymn of the Week offers the best of Lutheran hymnody for catechizing the congregation in the Christian faith and the themes of the Church Year. These hymns generally emphasize concrete biblical language and are, therefore, very important for children and catechumens to receive. Many are the appointed "Hymn of the Day" for that Sunday, especially during the summer weeks.

The Bible Readings for the Week usually include a biblical narrative and a second reading from the Old Testament prophets or the New Testament epistles. The Bible Story Lectionary from Lutheran Catechesis features “Continuous Readings,” “Church Year Stories,” and “Catechism Stories.” The catechism stories this year focus upon the Ten Commandments during the first six weeks. During those weeks the second reading is chosen to expand upon the catechism for that week. “Church Year Stories” cluster around the major festivals of the church year (Christmas, Passion, Easter/Ascension, Pentecost). During those weeks, the second reading is chosen to highlight the Bible narrative for the day. “Continuous Readings” Bible narratives for the year walk through the Old Testament from “Creation” to “The Giving of the Law on Mount Sinai,” followed by readings from the Gospel of Matthew in the late spring and summer. When the Bible narrative is from the “Continuous Readings,” the second reading will also offer “continuous readings” from the prophets or the epistles. At these times there is not intended to be a specific thematic connection to the Bible narrative of the day. The second reading is shorter than what is available in the LSB lectionary and is an optional reading for individuals, couples, and families to use in their home devotions.

Minor Festivals and Sundays: The flexibility of the Lutheran Catechesis Bible Story Lectionary for Daily Prayer allows for inclusion of Sunday readings on Saturdays and Sundays, and allows for minor festivals when they occur, without overburdening the pattern of an individual’s or family’s daily devotions.

Questions: If any of the users of the schedule have questions about the intent behind its construction or how to use it in their own context, please feel free to contact Pastor Bender at prbender@peacesussex.org.
